WHAT WE'VE BEEN UP TO

Hey y'all!

It's been another exciting quarter at Miscellaneous Rentals, helping keep Austin's events, productions, and conferences running smoothly. From crawfish boils to SXSW, we've been proud to support our creative community with reliable gear and real people who care.

At MISC, we genuinely care about your rental experience. From order to pick-up, we make the process smooth, straightforward, and (dare we say) enjoyable. We provide a wide range of products, from tables and chairs to champagne walls. As SXSW wraps up and we move into our busy season, we're excited about the new gear and new faces around the shop.

Here's a quick look at what's new, who's new, and what we've been up to lately!

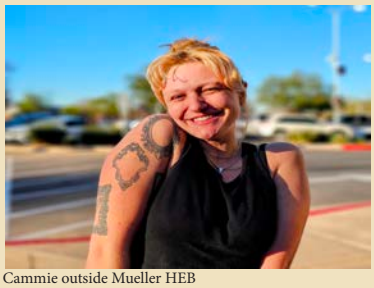
MEET THE MISCFITS



Cammie outside Mueller HEB

Cammie Davie

Office manager and Sales Coordinator

Q: What is your role at the company?

A: I help facilitate the order making process and I support my rental coordinators and oversee customer satisfaction/client relations.

Q: What does a typical day at the shop look like for you?

A: There is no typical day. Every day has new challenges, new clients, and new exciting opportunities.

Q: Do you have a favorite piece of equipment or gear in the shop?

A: A ladder

Q: What's the most chaotic moment you've experienced during a setup?

A: For me it's on the backend since I'm not there for the events. The most chaotic days are SXSW. It's stressful and fun and I love it.

Q: What made you want to work in event rentals?

A: I found this job because things just aligned. I was ready to switch to something more aligned with my career trajectory since events are adjacent to a lot of fine arts things. I came in and I liked the conversations with everyone and it was a really good time.

Q: Do you have a favorite piece of equipment or gear in the shop?

A: My favorite piece would probably be the biergarten tables because they look so nice. They do suck to carry but they elevate the realism of an event.

Q: What piece of gear do we use the most?

A: Furniture dollies

Q: What's your favorite part of working here?

A: I really love having a hand in making an event happen. What I really love is making something come to life. Which reflects my primary role as a stage manager. We're in this to make this happen together. It feels really great to help.

EVENTS & PRODUCTIONS

SXSW is the busiest time of the year for both Miscellaneous Rentals and the city of Austin. As locals leave town for spring break, they're replaced by an influx of people arriving from around the globe. With so many events happening at once, downtown becomes a nightmare to navigate and traffic across the city increases as everyone moves between SXSW events.

During SXSW, a wide range of our inventory is in high demand. Tables and chairs are always popular, along with pipe and drape, staging, and sound equipment like microphones and PA systems. We support everything from smaller events on the outskirts of SXSW to conference sessions and talks happening throughout the festival.

The week leading up to SXSW is hectic in the office as last-minute requests are finalized. Once the festival begins, the warehouse shifts into chaos. Most of the team is out on jobs throughout the week, leaving very little downtime and making turnarounds stressful. As much as the team loves SXSW, there's always a collective sigh of relief once it's over.
